Dog Wardens, PetSmart® Challenge Pennsylvanians to License 100,000 Dogs in March

Harrisburg – Agriculture Secretary George Greig, state dog wardens and pet specialty retailer PetSmart® today challenged Pennsylvanians to license their dogs, setting a goal to sell 100,000 licenses in March as part of “Dog License Awareness Month.”

If the licensing goal is met, PetSmart will donate $10,000 to Susquehanna Service Dogs, a non-profit organization that trains and provides service and hearing dogs that help children and adults with special needs become more independent. The cost of training and placing one service dog is approximately $20,000, with much of the monies coming from fundraising and donations by individuals, groups and corporations.

“A dog license is the best way to protect your dog if he gets lost, and it’s the law,” said Greig. “Buy a license for your dog in March. You’ll not only help your best friend, you’ll support an organization that helps Pennsylvanians lead independent lives.”

State law requires all dogs three months and older to be licensed each year. Owners who fail to license their dogs could face a fine of up to $300 for each unlicensed dog.

“At PetSmart, supporting the communities in which we live and work is not just what we do - it’s who we are,” said Sue Colrus, PetSmart’s District Manager for Southern Pennsylvania. “So we are thrilled to be a part of this important licensing effort because it’s good for Pennsylvania; it’s good for pet parents; and it’s good for our dogs.”

“Licensing your dog is easy and affordable,” said Dauphin County Treasurer Janis Creason. “Buy a license from your county treasurer or another licensing agent like a retail store, veterinarian office or, in some cases, online.”

An annual dog license is $8.45 and a lifetime license is $51.45. If the animal is spayed or neutered, the annual fee is $6.45 and lifetime is $31.45. Discounts are available to older adults and people with disabilities.

Licensing fees support the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture Dog Law Enforcement Office, which is responsible for ensuring the welfare of dogs, regulating dangerous dogs and overseeing annual licensing and rabies vaccinations.
